

Austin Chinatown Dim Sum Lunch & Walking Tour

with Cookbook Author and Teacher Dorothy Huang

Date: Saturday, March 26, 2011

Time: 11:30 am to 2:30 pm

Place: Fortune Chinese Restaurant, 10901 N. Lamar, 512-490-1426

Cost: $40.00 per adult, $5.00 for a 5-year-old, $6.00 for a 6-year-old, and so on

Registration: Send an email to me to reserve a spot (chinesecuisinedh@aol.com), followed by a check payable to Dorothy Huang, 755 Last Arrow, Houston, TX 77079

A Culinary Feast and Cultural Adventure

Huang's Chinatown Dim Sum Lunch & Walking Tour in Houston has been featured in regional and national publications. A perpetual favorite among Houstonians, and visitors alike, the class frequently has a long waiting list. Now she is leading the same educational supermarket tours in Austin's Chinatown Center.

Start with a sumptuous dim sum lunch in a Chinese restaurant. Dim sum is an assortment of dumplings, buns, rolls, balls, tarts, puffs, and cakes. These delicious bite-sized morsels can be stuffed with meat, seafood, vegetables, or sweet paste. The endless and unforgettable arrays of dishes are wheeled right to your table. Huang will guide your selections and explain how each dish is prepared. The entire dim sum experience is filling, fun, and informative. It is a chance to be adventurous with dining.

Following lunch, tour a Chinese supermarket where Huang takes the mystery out of the market's ingredients.

A Note from Dorothy

This would make a wonderful family day out. Besides trying new foods, you can explore MT Chinese Supermarket together with me as your guide.

Best,

Dorothy Huang

281-493-0885

281-389-9756 (c)

